Rebels Holding Missionary Are Under Attack

By KENNETH L. WHITING
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Congolese troops led by white mercenaries launched their drive on rebel Stanleyville today while the rebel regime there demanded negotiations on the fate of American medical missionary Paul Carlson and other foreigners in rebel territory.

The central government force moved out of Kundi, 250 miles south of Stanleyville, for what they hoped would be a quick seizure of the rebel capital.

Some 200 white mercenaries—mostly South Africans, Belgians and Britons—were believed spearheading between 300 and 500 Congolese troops.

Rebel leader Christophe Gbenye had announced postponement of the death sentence given Dr. Carlson, who had been scheduled to die last Monday, following an appeal from Kenya Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta.

Gbenye told Kenyatta the execution would be carried out next Monday if no basis was found for negotiations on "the prisoners of war" by then.

Legislative Group Guards General Fund

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Legislative Council guarded the general fund Wednesday by knocking down an attempt to put driver's license fees into the fund.

The fees support the State Police agency, which has a sagging economy due to expanded services. Some legislators had discussed placing the fees in the general fund and letting the State Police draw on the fund as a whole for financial support.

But the council voted 10-7 against putting the fees in the general fund.

The State Police budget will be heard Monday and a solution sought then to solve its economic woes.

The council approved a budget of $197,750 annually for two years for the Assessment Coordination Division, as recommended by Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

It also approved these budgets:

- Public Service Commission, $258,000 a year for two years, as recommended by the governor.
- PSC Tax Division, $67,575 and $67,075 for the next two years, as recommended by the governor.
- Labor Department, $227,450 and $222,450 for the next two years, as the governor recommended.

City, State Taxes Cost Average $145

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansans paid an average of $145 in state and local taxes in the last fiscal year and that is $90 below the national average, a Census Bureau report showed Wednesday.

The state ranked 48th in per capita state and local taxes collected and that is about where it is in per capita income. South Carolina and Alabama were below Arkansas in per capita tax collections.

Tax collections per person ranged upward to $327 in New York and $319 in California. The national average was $235.

For every $1,000 of personal income in Arkansas last year, $93 was collected in state and local taxes, the report said.

Arkansas' per capita income was $1,565, the third lowest. The national average was $1,878 more.

In addition to state and local taxes, Arkansas collected $95.79 in charges and miscellaneous funds per $1,000 income, and $56.64 per person came to the state in federal grants.

Negro Caught With Illegal Whiskey

A net of City and State Police and the Sheriff's Department was out yesterday and it took in Dale Williams, Negro, on charges of possessing and transporting moonshine liquor.

The arrest was made by City Officers Long and McCulley who also seized two gallons of whiskey.

Cities Meet, Plan to Get More Money

Twenty-nine Municipal officials from nine towns and cities in Southwest Arkansas met in Hope last night to discuss the six-point legislative program of the Arkansas Municipal League.

Host officials of Hope included Mayor Frank Douglas and City Manager Garland Medders. Al Graves and Lloyd Guerin.

The principal points of the program is for towns and cities to receive the highway user taxes actually earned by travel on town and city streets and equitable percentage share of State General Revenues to finance needed Municipal services to serve industry and the more than one million citizens living in towns and cities.

Mayor Clyde Andrews of Marianna, president of the League and Wm. C. Fleming, Assistant Director of the League spoke at the meeting.

Towns and cities represented at the meeting were Hope, Nashville, Mineral Springs, Ashdown, Washington and McCaskill.

This is one of a series of thirteen meetings held in all sections of the state. Future meetings are in Fordyce tonight, Hot Springs, Monday night, and Jacksonville Tuesday night.

Borderline Liquor Store Closes

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—A controversial liquor store that opened Monday in a "wet" island between two dry counties has closed, the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board said Wednesday.

Director Alvin E. Bell said Lowell Thomas Crisco of Jonesboro voluntarily gave up his permit at the disputed location, which is on U.S. 63 in the corner of Greene County.

The area is between Lawrence and Craighead counties, which are dry.

Bell said Crisco would find a new location in Greene County. The controversy started when he opened Monday, and state Sen. Doug Bradley of Jonesboro asked Gov. Orval E. Faubus to have the store closed.

Crisco, 27, is a real estate man. Bell said he was "very decent about the whole affair."

A Good Way to Shake Off Melancholy Is to Catalogue Past Memorable Experiences

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Every one is subject at times to self-pity and nameless melancholy. One way to snap yourself out of these attacks of the blues is to sit down and catalog past experiences that made life memorable for you in some way.

Here is one man's partial list of cherished moments:

The taste of honey and the first strawberry of spring. Sunlight on ice-encrusted trees, turning the woodland into a forest of flaming diamonds. The pride in childhood of working out a loose tooth all by yourself—and waking up the next morning and finding a dime under your pillow.

Hearing a cello played in an unseen room. Dandelions studying winter's last snow in yellow surprise. Getting a valentine in kindergarten from the only girl in the world. Listening to anything by Mozart. Climbing the Great Pyramid of Cheops at dawn and, on reaching the top, having the eerie feeling of being totally alone in a lifeless universe.

Chanting with the katyids on a warm summer night. Sleeping under a blanket of stars in the Tunisian desert in wartime. Hearing the buzz-saw tenor scream of Gen. George S. Patton as he bawled out a sloppy sergeant. Being praised by your mother for dyeing the prettiest egg in the Easter basket.

More American Troops Sent to Viet Nam War

By SPENCER DAVIS
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States sent another 1,200 military men into South Viet Nam this month, officials disclosed today. More American air transport units also have been thrown into the struggle.

The disclosures came less than 24 hours after it was announced that Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor will fly back to Washington to open a sweeping review of the South Vietnamese situation with President Johnson and his top military and diplomatic advisers on Nov. 27.

The additional manpower brings U.S. military strength in the troubled area to about 21,200—up 5,000 since midsummer, sources said.

Some of the reinforcements have been assigned to the U.S. Special Forces, an elite unit specially trained for guerrilla warfare.

Other U.S. forces have been assigned to beef up the American advisers who are working in the field with South Vietnamese troops.

The additional airpower includes a squadron of U.S. Air Force C123 transport planes and a group of Army C2 cargo carriers.

The airpower is designed to increase the mobility and flexibility of Vietnamese troops in responding more quickly to guerrilla raids.

Officials said the increases in American manpower and airpower committed to the Viet Nam war were the result of decisions taken earlier and did not represent any new strategy.

President Johnson will make whatever new decisions are required following his talks with Taylor. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other high officials have made clear since the Nov. 3 election that the United States has no intention of pulling out of Southeast Asia.

Most of the presidential advisers appear to have boiled down the alternatives for the future to either a continuation of pre-war effort into North Viet Nam to retaliate for the increasing pace of the guerrilla war.

Taylor's visit to Washington will be his second since he was sent to Saigon as ambassador last July. He is a former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Did Doubletake on Old Issue

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—A staff member of the Ouachita Baptist College news bureau did a double take Nov. 17 when he took the wrapper off the Texarkana Gazette newspaper received in the mail that day.

The paper was dated Dec. 13, 1963.

Pine Bluff Mayor Won't Contest

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Mayor Offie Lites said Wednesday he would not contest the Nov. 3 election results, which showed him a 101 vote loser to independent Austin T. Franks.

Lites had said earlier that he would contest the election if he got sufficient contributions to cover the expense. He said he had found some voting irregularities.

He did not say how many—if any—contributions he received.

"The way our election laws are written, it would be near impossible to void the results by legal process," he said in a statement.

Grand Master of Lodge Elected

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Jack V. Stockburger of Winslow was elected grand master of the Grand Lodge of Arkansas, Free & Accepted Masons at the group's meeting here Wednesday.

FBI's Hoover Declares Martin Luther King Just a Big Liar, Lashes Out at Warren Report

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has blasted the Warren Commission as "unfair and unjust" and called Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. "the most notorious liar in the country."

Hoover boiled over on these and other matters, including the "bleeding heart judges," in a lengthy interview Wednesday with a group of women reporters.

He angrily charged the Warren Commission with "a classic example of Monday morning quarterbacking" in discussing its report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, has said the FBI failed to notify the Secret Service that the assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald, was in Dallas last Nov. 22, the day Kennedy was slain.

In New York City alone, Hoover complained, 7,000 persons would have to be taken out of circulation every time a president makes a public appearance if it were deemed necessary to remove "every individual who might threaten the safety of the president."

However, the FBI director said, his office is turning over to the Secret Service the names of "thousands of beatniks, crackpots and kooks."

Hoover appeared before the commission last May 14 and told newsmen after testifying the panel was doing "a very thorough job." He said it had "even gone beyond what a reasonable man would have expected" in accumulating evidence.

Shortly after the commission issued its report Sept. 27, Hoover was entwined in controversy. The Washington Evening Star published Oct. 2 a copyright partial transcript of the FBI director's testimony, some of which was sharply critical of the State Department and some of the security measures taken to protect the president.

Wednesday he said there is "not a scintilla" of jealousy between the FBI and the Secret Service, which is charged by law with protecting presidents.

Efforts to reach the members of the Warren Commission, some of whom are traveling abroad, were not successful.

Hoover let fly his blast at Dr. King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference in discussing civil rights. He called the Negro integrationist who recently was named winner of the Nobel Peace Prize a liar for advising Negroes not to report any civil rights violations to the Albany, Ga., FBI office because the staff members were all Southerners.

When he asked King to make an appointment so he could prove that four of the five men were born in the North, Hoover said, King would not make the appointment.

The FBI director went off the record for further comments about the minister.

Co. Groups Attend FFA Meet Today

Representatives of the Hope Chapter of the Future Farmers of America will attend the Black Land Federation Meeting in Prescott today. There will be representatives from Blevins, Gordon, Prescott, Bodcaw, Arkadelphia, Cale, Emmet, Laneburg, and Hope.

The Presentation of Awards to county winners in the Farm Electrification Contest will be made.

There will be a quiz for Agriculture I students on the manual. Ralph Byers will represent Hope.

There will be an election of Federation Officers for the school year 1964-65, followed by a short business session, with the newly elected officers in charge.

Castro Spies Infiltrate Cuban Exiles

By THEODORE A. EDIGER
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A creepy feeling of Fidel Castro spies infiltrating the United States is growing in the Cuban exile colony. U.S. authorities say the situation is under control.

The head of an anti-Castro organization with an intelligence department of its own estimates more than 1 per cent of the Cuban refugees in this country are Communist agents. About 200,000 cubans have come since Castro's 1959 takeover.

Another exile leader, whose office claims wide access to exile and Cuban underground information, estimated the number of Castro agents at 5,000, including Cubans and Americans.

An official of the State Department's Cuban affairs office here described such claims as without substantiation.

Miami district immigration director Robert Woytych said his men screen out spies by "one of the most efficient techniques yet devised."

"Our record is so tremendous that no cases have been brought to light," he said.

The Cuban who issued the estimate of 5,000 agents said: "Many have lived in the United States since before Castro, and are American citizens. They can cross back and forth into Mexico freely. The Cuban Embassy in Mexico is the hub of the spy network."

The exile produced a list of alleged Castro agents or "very suspicious persons."

He said his investigation showed that: "One is assigned to watch every important anti-Castro group here. Some are assigned to scan American newspapers. Some are assigned to be troublemakers."

"Castro knew about the Bay of Pigs invasion. Since then, his espionage network has grown in experience and numbers."

FBI special agent Howard Albaugh said his office receives many complaints about supposed Castro agents, but "we feel the situation is under control."

Assistant district immigration director Gordon Yeager said his department has "eased out" many who flunked the screening— "well over 100." These are returned to Cuba or permitted to go elsewhere.

At ceremonies, he was presented his half-wings by Dr. J. T. Clark, the Dean of Instruction at Henderson. After only eight hours and 25 minutes of actual flying with an instructor, he flew the Cessna 150 plane for about 30 minutes in a local traffic flight pattern.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Formby of Palmos. Cadet Formby graduated from Hope High in 1961 and is currently working for a B.S. Degree in Business Administration at Henderson.

He is a Distinguished Military Student. When he graduates in August 1965, he hopes to get a regular army commission and make the service a career.

Closing 95 U.S. Bases to Idle Some 63,000

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Some 63,000 workers at 95 military bases, shipyards and other defense installations learn today that their jobs are to be lopped off eventually by the federal economy ax.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara scheduled a mid-afternoon news conference at which he said he would name the bases in 33 states that are to be closed. A handful of bases overseas will be identified later. Word was to go more or less simultaneously to congressmen and the affected institutions.

Until then, McNamara proposed to keep the list secret. In announcing plans for the cut-back Wednesday, he said it included facilities of all types— "air bases, air depots, Army arsenals, Army terminals, shipyards, etc."

Major controversy has centered on the possibility some of the Navy's 11 shipyards would be closed.

McNamara said two years ago there was excess in the shipyards. Since then he has visited most of the shipyards in trying to decide which could be closed and which could be cut back.

McNamara presented his justifications for the closings at a preliminary news conference at which he made public a 32-page booklet showing how defense installations closed earlier have

Legion Meet to Be Held November 24

Commander Bill Ellis has announced that there will be a meeting of The American Legion, Leslie Huddleston Post 12, Tuesday, November 24, 1964, at 7:30 o'clock p.m. in the Big Court Room at the Hempstead County Court House.

Henry E. Hudson, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Little Rock, and members of his staff will discuss new legislation that will be of vital interest to all veterans. Mr. Hudson will speak briefly about the general program of the Veterans Administration. The members of his staff, to be present are: Adjutant Officer, Roy R. Moore, who will discuss new legislation pertaining to Compensation and Pension and the Education Program; Loan Guaranty Officer, C. C. Hornby, will discuss the Loan Guaranty Program, and Contact Officer, Charles Shively, will discuss new insurance legislation.

Every member is urged to be present for this very important meeting.

REA Enjoined From Loaning Utility Cash

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—A federal judge has upheld the plea of a private electric firm and enjoined the Rural Electrification Administration from granting a $56,521,000 loan to a "super-cooperative" public utility.

The Louisiana Electric Cooperatives, Inc., a public utility formed by 12 cooperatives, wanted the money to build a steam generating and transmission plant.

But a private electric utility Electric Co. — Complained that the big money loan would bring about unlawful competition.

U. S. Dist. Judge Ben C. Dawkins Jr. said a lot more than the mere consummation of a loan was involved.

"Testimony indicates," the judge said, "there has been a concerted effort on the part of the defendants, the supercooperative and its member cooperatives, to obliterate completely the wholesale electric power business of plaintiffs."

Arkansas Gets First Snow as Cold Moves in

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
North Arkansas got its first snow of the season today as icy winds moved into the state, ending a lengthy Indian Summer.

The weather situation was snow flurries in northern areas through this afternoon. Freeze warnings were out for tonight.

Snow was reported in Carroll County west of Eureka Springs and in Huntsville in Madison County.

"Much colder temperatures are due over much of the state by Friday night," the Bureau said. Low temperatures could drop to the mid 20s in Northwest Arkansas by Friday morning, it reported.

The cold weather comes on the heels of a series of changing weather patterns that dumped more than three inches of rain at some points in the state.

Newport reported 3.10 inches as of 7:30 a.m. today. Little Rock had 1.53, Fort Smith 1.66, Fayetteville 1.63, Harrison 1.32, Walnut Ridge 1.36, and Texarkana 1.76 by 6 a.m.

Some other reports showed Arkadelphia with 2.25 by 7:30 a.m., Batesville 2.34, and Hot Springs 1.66 inches.

Maximum temperatures of 41 degrees northwest to 70 degrees southeast are forecast today, with overnight low readings from the mid 20s northwest to low 50s southeast.

High temperatures Wednesday ranged from 50 degrees at Walnut Ridge to 70 degrees at Texarkana. Overnight low readings ranged from 39 degrees at Fayetteville to 60 degrees at Texarkana.

New England Remains Dust Dry

CHICAGO (AP)—New England remained dust dry today in the clutches of its worst drought, while the Southwest dug out from under heavy snow.

The Weather Bureau said however, that some rain or snow was expected in the southern New England area Friday.

Massachusetts and sections of Connecticut and Rhode Island were hardest hit by the drought. Gov. Endicott Peabody of Massachusetts considered calling an emergency meeting of governors in the New England area. There has been no appreciable rain in the six New England states for 208 days.

Hay crop losses were estimated at $18 million in New England, including $3.4 million in Massachusetts. Potato farmers have lost more than $1 million.

Temperatures were below freezing in many areas of New York State, and the Weather Bureau said there was a slight chance of rain or snow. Forests were closed in 45 counties in the state because of fire hazards. The state has been plagued with a six-month drought.

Light rain fell over most of West Virginia, easing the fire situation out of the critical stage. Livestock farmers in 10 counties were still receiving federal aid under an emergency feed grain program.

The weather situation was considerably different in Western and Southwestern parts of the nation.

In Western Kansas, Garden City received an inch of snow Wednesday night. The precipitation, which extended as far northeastward as Manhattan, was welcome in the western Kansas counties where a fall drought had become critical.

The Weather Bureau reported good news for drought-stricken eastern Colorado where wheat crops valued in the millions had been endangered by an absence of moisture. Heavy snow warnings with up to four inches were issued for some sections.

Red River, N.M., received 13 inches of snow Wednesday, but the Weather Bureau said the precipitation was not expected to affect the drought-stricken eastern part of the state.

New storms moved into Arizona and were expected to bring snow to the mountains and rain to the deserts for several days, the Weather Bureau reported. The area had its worst November storm in years Sunday with four persons reported dead.

Ball Is Back From NATO Arms Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of State George W. Ball has returned from Europe optimistic about prospects for agreement early next year for formation of a nuclear weapons force within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Ball came back Tuesday from the first of two scheduled European missions concerned primarily with divisions among the Atlantic Allies over a variety of military, political and economic problems.

His primary concern, however, has been to do everything possible to move forward work on the nuclear weapons problem.

He told reporters that he brought back "a good deal of optimism as regard to the spirit" with which interested European Allies are now working on the U.S. proposal for organization of a seaborne nuclear missile force.

"I think the German government is very determined to try to make a success of this proposal," Ball said.

However, he said it would take some weeks beyond the previous year end deadline for an agreement in order to give the new British Labor government time to work out its position on the nuclear weapons issue.

Ball devoted his trip of the last few days to conferring with German leaders, including Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and Foreign Minister Gerhard Schröder. He made it obvious that Germany, which was earlier pressing hard for an agreement by the end of the year, and the United States have agreed on a delay of at least some weeks so the British may have time to come up with any new proposals they may wish to make.

Other officials said, in fact, that it is the new British Labor government's active interest in finding solutions for the various heretofore divisive issues in the nuclear weapons project which is the real cause of the new surge of optimism about getting an agreement.

The United States and West Germany have been pressing vigorously for the seaborne nuclear force for more than a year. One purpose of the United States in supporting the project is to give West Germany a more active role along with other Allies in nuclear weapons strategy and control. Otherwise, U.S. authorities believe, the day may come when West Germany will

A Stolen Device Squeals on Youths

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — A stolen recording device squealed on two teen-agers. Detective Sgt. Gerald Baggerly, following a tip Tuesday, went to the apartment of Jack Smith, 19, and John Wingert, 18. There he found the recorder, 10 cartons of cigarettes and some foreign coins.

Baggerly said when he flipped on the machine, it reported it had been stolen from the First Presbyterian church. The detective said the youths had recorded the confession during a party when someone asked where they got the machine.

Smith and Wingert were charged with second-degree burglary.

Diplomats Try to Smuggle Out Prisoner

By PIERO DE GARZAROLLI

ROME (AP) — The Italian Foreign Ministry today ordered the immediate expulsion of two Egyptian diplomats caught trying to ship a bound, drugged prisoner to Cairo in a trunk labeled "diplomatic mail."

Rome police said they had information the victim, Moroccan-born Josef Dahhan, 30, had been a spy for the United Arab Republic some years ago and more recently for Israel.

The police said Dahhan was an Israeli citizen. The Israeli Embassy said it had no record of him.

Police said the "diplomatic trunk" had almost certainly been used before for human cargo.

The Foreign Ministry sent for the U.A.R. ambassador to protest and to order the expulsion of the two embassy first secretaries who tried to load the trunk aboard a U.A.R. airliner bound for Cairo.

Dahhan denied that he had spied for either of the two Middle East rivals, police said. A linguist with bleached blond hair, he told police he had worked for a time as an interpreter at the U.A.R. Embassy.

The locked trunk was halted at Rome's Fiumicino Airport Tuesday night while it was being shipped as diplomatic mail. Police arrested the two first secretaries who were with it but released them because they had diplomatic immunity.

Closing 95 U.S.

been put to what he called "productive civilian use."

Attached was a memorandum by President Johnson, which said:

"We expect to receive a dollar of value for every dollar we spend on defense.

"To do so has meant we must eliminate surplus, obsolete, unnecessary defense installations. This has and will continue to be done."

Support for McNamara's announcement came also from Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey who returned to the United States Wednesday night from a two-week vacation in the Virgin Islands.

Questioned at Baltimore's Friendship Airport, he said: "I am sure the secretary is only doing what he feels is necessary — getting the most out of every dollar spent for defense. I believe Secretary McNamara has done the best job of any defense secretary in my memory."

McNamara gave these justifications for the closings, the latest round in cutbacks which date back to March 1961, soon after he took office:

"The new reductions, when completed during the next several years, 'will result in savings of about one-half billion dollars per year, every year, in the Defense Department budget, without degrading our military capabilities.'"

Combined with previous action, annual savings will be over $1 billion.

Under the new program, 377,000 acres — almost 600 square miles — will be released for non-defense use to local government or private use, thus boosting locally taxable land.

Showed Her That Somebody Cares

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "She asked who cares. We wanted to show her."

That's the reason by Alexander Head, 17, president of the Student Senate at Thomas A. Edison High School, for bringing $31 to a 50-year-old woman recovering from injuries at Temple University Hospital.

The woman, Miss Ella Socolski was struck by a motor scooter Oct. 14 and two teen-age boys stole her purse containing $50 while a crowd stood by.

She suffered a broken leg and broken arm.

Head got the idea to ask the 2,900 students at Edison High for a penny each. He brought the total to Miss Socolski.

McClellan Sees Medicare Bill Passage

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said here Tuesday he was sure that this Congress would pass some kind of medical care for the aged bill.

McClellan said the majority of the people in the nation want some sort of medical care proposal to become law.

The senator covered the subject lightly in a speech to about 475 persons at a dinner meeting of the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce and the Associated Industries of Arkansas Inc.

McClellan urged, as he usually does, fiscal conservatism in government, but he went on to say he might support President Johnson's bill to provide funds to fight poverty in 355 counties in the Appalachian region.

"If it is the policy of the government to go into these distressed areas, then I don't see why we should confine it to those counties," he said. "We have a couple of counties ourselves, and I think we should look at the nation as a whole."

World News

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Another U.S. enlisted man has been killed in South Viet Nam, raising the total of Americans killed in combat to 225 since 1961.

A U.S. spokesman said four Vietnamese also were killed in the clash Monday with a Viet Cong unit 15 miles east of Saigon.

SINGAPORE (AP) — Malaysian forces combed the outskirts of Singapore and the marshy jungle of the southern Malayan mainland for Indonesian infiltrators today.

Police said seven Indonesians captured Monday night in a remote area of Singapore Island, had slipped ashore three days ago.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Nicolai Virubin arrived today for a 24-hour visit. He and Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman were expected to discuss promotion of cultural relations between their countries.

MADRID (AP) — Spain's sunshine — one of the most attractive features for the increasing flow of tourists — is beginning to worry the Spaniards.

A long drought has reduced the level of water reservoirs 50 per cent. Authorities in some areas are contemplating water rationing.

Madrid, which consumes 700,000 cubic meters a day, has a 40-day supply. A number of places report no rain in more than five months.

Counterfeiting Trial Postponed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Trial of two men charged under the state counterfeiting law was postponed Wednesday until next Monday by Circuit Judge William J. Kirby.

The defendants are David Lee Johnson, 23, and James H. Dicus, 24, both of Little Rock.

Johnson, a Highway Department employee when arrested, is charged with using the department's photographic reproduction equipment to make counterfeit bills. Dicus is charged with possessing some of the money. Dicus was employed by a trucking firm.

Two other men have been charged as accomplices in the case. They are Donald B. Aley, 39, of Little Rock and Robert Wayne Allen, 19, of North Little Rock. Their trial is scheduled for Nov. 27.

People in the News

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Carol Lawrence gave birth to a 7-pound, 9-ounce boy in Doctors Hospital shortly before Tuesday midnight.

Miss Lawrence's husband, singer Robert Goulet, was preparing for his late show at a hotel cocktail lounge when he got the news. He completed his performance, then rushed to the hospital for his first look at his son, Christopher.

The child is the couple's first.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower wound up a vacation of several weeks at the Augusta National Golf Club and returned to his farm near Gettysburg, Pa., Tuesday.

PARIS (AP) — Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy, wife of the Massachusetts senator, stopped off in Paris today for a private visit while the John F. Kennedy Library exhibit was transferred from Frankfurt to Berlin.

Mrs. Kennedy, sister-in-law of the late president, is accompanying the exhibit on a European tour.

TOKYO (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon conferred today with Prime Minister Eisaku Sato on a wide range of subjects involved in U.S.-Japanese relations.

Nixon arrived in Tokyo last Sunday on a two-week business trip for his New York law firm.

Conway to Get Shopping Center

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Joe H. Sisson of Muskogee, Okla., announced plans Wednesday to build a $1 million shopping center here.

The center, Conway's first, would be known as the Shoppers Village. It would be located on a 12-acre plot of land along U.S. 64 and would contain nine large national chain stores and eight smaller stores, Sisson said.

Rebels Holding

Gbenye also replied to a warning from U.S. Ambassador G. McMurtrie Godley that the rebels would be held responsible for the safety of more than 60 American in the rebel zone. Via Radio Stanleyville, Gbenye said the United States was "held responsible for the deaths of many Congolese."

A U.S. embassy spokesman said there was no indication how or when negotiations might be started.

Jones Leads Celtics to Comeback

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A couple of Dead-Eye Dicks from the foul line won important games for Boston and Cincinnati in the National Basketball Association Wednesday night.

Sam Jones gave the Celtics a 100-97 victory over the St. Louis Hawks when his free throw with 10 seconds left provided what proved to be the winning point. Two charity conversions by the Big O. Oscar Robertson, in the last 43 seconds gave the Royals a 92-90 triumph over the Los Angeles Lakers.

The Detroit Pistons made three out of four for new coach Dave DeBusschere by downing the Philadelphia 76ers 124-111 in the other scheduled NBA game. The action kept Boston three games ahead of Cincinnati in the Eastern Division while the Hawks remained 1 1/2 games back of Los Angeles in the Western Division.

Parilli Is Pro Player of Week

NEW YORK (AP) - Babe Parilli, the 34-year-old Sweet Kentucky Babe of the Boston Patriots, wrecked the Buffalo Bills' nine-game winning streak and became The Associated Press' Player of the Week in the American Football League.

Parilli and his pass-catching and kicking end, Gino Cappelletti teamed up on the Bills.

The Babe hit with five touchdowns passes, completing 18 of 35 for 240 yards, in the Patriots' 36-22 victory that kept the Eastern Division race alive.

Gino caught four passes, three for touchdowns, and grabbed a two-point conversion pass from Parilli that put Boston out front 29-28 in the last period. Cappelletti also kicked four conversions, giving him a total of 122 points for the season.

Parilli, formerly with the Cleveland Browns, Green Bay Packers, Ottawa Rough Riders and Oakland Raiders, set a career high with a season total of 22 TD passes.

Barbato Envy of All Golf Playing Kids

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) - Danny Barbato is the envy of every golf-conscious kid in America. The 15-year-old youngster is caddying for Arnold Palmer as the Golden Boy of golf sets out to defend his 1964 money championship in today's opening round of the Cajun Classic.

"Be ready to go at seven sharp," Palmer told Danny Wednesday after finishing the pro-am tune-up for the $25,000 Cajun Classic - final tourney on the PGA trail this year.

Danny, still slightly overwhelmed at his assignment, nodded.

"I think he's going to do fine for me," said Palmer, who came here to prevent Jack Nicklaus from overhauling him in this year's lar derby.

Palmer didn't get Danny by chance. Danny's father, Luca Barbato, host pro at the Oak-

Anti-Picketing Hearing Set

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The state Supreme Court set 10 a.m. Friday as the date for hearing a labor organization's motion that an Independence County Chancery Court anti-picketing injunction be dissolved.

Kelley Nelson Construction Co. obtained the order against pickets at a Batesville construction job. Union officials said they were denied their constitutional rights because they did not get word of the chancery court hearings which resulted in the injunction.

H. T. Bryant, Z. W. Burnett and V. H. Williams, acting for the Central Arkansas Building and Construction Trades (AFL-CIO), petitioned the Supreme Court for the hearing.

DiMaggio Has Party on 50th Birthday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Joe DiMaggio shook hands with nearly every one of the 1,500 persons who jammed a hotel ballroom Wednesday night to honor the Yankee Clipper before his 50th birthday.

"I've never seen anything like it," said DiMaggio, who reaches the half-century mark Nov. 25.

He posed for pictures for two hours, delaying the program. The crush of the guests also helped postpone dinner.

The former New York Yankee great posed repeatedly with Mickey Mantle and Willie Mays. Mays played his first season with the then New York Giants in 1951, the year DiMaggio was ending his playing days across the Harlem River.

The four DiMaggio brothers were the group to catch attention. Three of them - Joe, Dom and Vince - were professional baseball players and major league stars. The oldest, Tom, was a top semipro third baseman in San Francisco, but he had to help his father man the fishing boats to feed the nine DiMaggio children.

The celebrities in the Sheraton-Palace main ballroom came from coast to coast and represented every sport.

Almost all were famous men, but noticed in the crowd were former Yankee owner Del Webb, and San Francisco Giant top man Horace Stoneham. Sports-caster Mel Allen was the master-of-ceremonies.

The gala celebration took place about one mile from Fisherman's Wharf, where DiMaggio's father worked from day-break to past sunset in the boats. Now his next-to-youngest offspring, Joe, plans to be a director of Fisherman's Bank, which will be located on the wharf near where his father bourne Country Club here, assigned the boy to the job.

"He's been so thrilled he can hardly sleep," said Luca.

Palmer and Nicklaus set the stage for their battle in the pro-am.

Each fired five-under-par 67s over the rolling, well-manicured course.

They shared honors for low score with four other pros - Gardner Dickinson Jr., Buster Cupit, Ken Still and Randy Glover. Each got a check for $179.16.

The pro-am money doesn't count toward the dollar championship.

Palmer and Nicklaus are separated by $318.87 in official money earnings on the tour - with Palmer credited with $111,703.37.

Market Is Now Over Its Inertia

By SAM DAWSON
A Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) - After several weeks of inertia the stock market is beginning to move again. And its wide swings raise the question of whether the public is coming back in.

Most small investors apparently stayed on the sidelines during the brisk upturn in late summer, so that only the professionals gleaned the profits.

And even this week's liveliness on the exchanges seems to observers more the work of pros and the institutions than of the little fellows. This is because the big volume of trading has been traceable to interest in a few individual stock issues, and usually in those where some specific news seemed to be affecting them.

Labor troubles on the one hand, and reports that they will soon be over on the other, have moved the market sharply down and up.

The election went as Wall Street expected but confirmed beliefs that economic growth will be the aim of the government, and that the measures taken will bolster profits, and thus stock prices should stay strong, and many should climb.

In spite of all this, the little fellow still hasn't made his presence known as he did in the bull market of 1961. And many think that the shellacking that a lot of people, especially novices, took in 1962 as a result of the binge of the year before is still keeping the public out.

Wall Street has no foolproof guide as to just how many small investors are buying or how much they are spending. Brokers watch the odd lot figures for one indication. Since odd lots are those bought or sold in less than 100 share quantities, it is assumed that such activity is by the little fellow. But this is still just an assumption.

The odd lot figures during the late summer upturn in the market showed more selling orders than buying. This has changed now and then of late, but not enough to be convincing.

Another thing that brokers watch is the interest in stocks of new companies, or little known ones, or those touted as having growth potentials.

There has been no such speculative rush in this field as in the bull market of 1961. Both government and private economists are glad there hasn't been. Too often that means another 1962-type market crash.

Socrates was called the "Gadfly of Athens."

Turkey Shoot Planned by Jr. Rifle Club

The Jr. Rifle Club will hold a Thanksgiving Turkey Shoot at the Rifle Range and Trap Range at Fair Park on Sat. and Sunday afternoons. The shoot will begin at 2:00 p.m. both days. Shooting will continue as late as there are shooters on Saturday, since the trap range is lighted. All shooting will cease at 6:00 p.m. on Sunday.

Hunter's Special ten-target events in trap will give a shooter a turkey for a "straight." Also, if shooters prefer, 10-man squads may compete from the 16 yard shooting stations or may shoot "miss and out" matches, in which a shooter shoots at a given distance, then backs upon on successive shots until all but one shooter is eliminated.

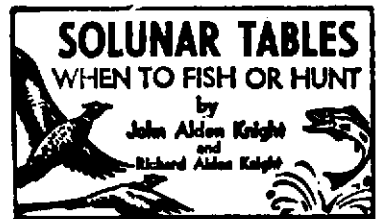

In Rifle shooting, using any caliber and any sights, iron or scopes, hitting a Deer's heart at 100 yards will win a turkey. All shooting will be done in the offhand or standing position. Also 10-man squads may compete with the rifle for shot nearest the Deer's heart, or with the shotgun for a shot nearest the center of an X.

There will also be luck matches for beginners or non-shooters. In one event, names will be placed on a round piece of cardboard, then pasted to a large square piece of cardboard. One shot with a shotgun will determine which circular piece is hit with the most pellets and wins the turkey. Another event will place names on a round piece of cardboard, divided off like a pie is sliced. The circle will be spun around and shot with a .22 rifle while spinning. The name in the slice with the bullet hold will win a turkey.

This shoot should be very interesting for non-shooters as well as shooters. Any man who has had hunting experience is no stranger to a shotgun or rifle and if he can hit duck or quail, he can hit a target. Come out and enjoy the fun and help the Jr. Rifle Club buy new equipment. The shoot will be run completely by Jr. members of the Club.

Forrest City Coach to Quit

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—Jim DeVazier, head football coach at Forrest City High School since 1954, said Wednesday night he has decided to resign, effective the end of this term.

DeVazier had a 98-37-10 record in his seasons here. The school board has not yet officially considered his resignation.

The coach said he had not decided what he would do when the school term ends.

Arkansas Baseball's M. Valuable

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — Brooks Robinson, who was told as a youth he had a questionable future in baseball, is the American League's Most Valuable Player for 1964.

"This is the most wonderful thing that ever happened to me," Robinson said Wednesday night after his landslide victory was announced.

The Baltimore third baseman, whose heroics almost carried the Orioles to a pennant, drew 269 of a possible 280 points in the voting by a special 20-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The only player named on all ballots, Robinson drew 18 first place votes. The other two went to Mickey Mantle, who sparked the New York Yankees' late drive to another pennant, Mantle finished with 171 points. A first-place vote was worth 14 points, with 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

Elston Howard of the Yanks, last year's winner, finished third with 124 points. Rookie batting champ Tony Oliva of Minnesota was fourth with 99, followed by pitcher Dean Chance of Los Angeles, the Cy Young award winner, with 97.

Robinson, 27, topped American League third basemen in fielding for the fifth straight year. And to go with his spectacular glove work, he led the league with 118 runs batted in, finished second in hitting with a .317 mark, and slugged 28 homers.

"I felt that I had a pretty good chance but I never thought I'd win," Robinson said. "This is an award every player would like to win but few ever do."

As a high school student in Little Rock, Ark., 10 years ago, Brooks had doubts about his baseball future.

"I was told by various scouts and coaches that my arm was not good enough and that I couldn't run fast enough," Robinson recalled. "But I wanted to play."

As an 18-year-old, Brooks played 95 games of Class B. ball in 1955 and then made his major league debut. He made several more trips to the minors, but appeared in games with the Orioles every year thereafter. He quickly became the darling of the fans, and sort of grew up with the new franchise.

Bobcats Close Out Season Here Friday

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sports Editor

The Bobcats will close out their season Friday night by playing host to the winless Arkadelphia Badgers.

The Badgers have been in the cellar of 4AA so long that they may be able to acquire a permanent lease on the place, but you never can tell what they may pull out of their little bag of tricks.

"We don't exactly know what to expect of them," explained Coach Alan Howard. "They've come out in several different offenses this season and half a dozen different defenses. Since this is the last game, we expect a tough one. But we're bound and determined to be 4AA champs."

The Malvern Leopards remain just behind Hope with a 6-1 record. Hope has a 6-0-1. A loss to Arkadelphia and a Malvern win over Fairview could have some embarrassing results.

It is hoped that a large crowd will be on hand tomorrow night since it will be the last chance to see the 1964 Bobcats in action. They have certainly built up a fine record and the Hope fans can be justifiable proud. The best way of showing the team just how much we think of them and of their efforts is to fill the stands.

Freddie Easterling will replace Jerry Waller as fullback in the line-up. Jerry was injured last week at Nashville.

Princeton Has Another Football Hero

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — It doesn't quite have the ring of Hobey Baker or Dick Kazmaier but the name of Cosmo Iacavazzi is being readied for a prominent place alongside those other Princeton football heroes.

As he prepares to wind up his collegiate career Saturday against Cornell, the 5-foot-11, 200-pound Tiger fullback holds the Princeton career and one-season touchdown marks of 30 and 14 respectively and the Ivy League record of 27. He is tied with the legendary Baker for most Princeton career points (180) and needs 49 yards to erase Kazmaier's one-season rushing mark of 861 yards.

But another game like the one against Yale last Saturday would be sufficient. In that one, Iacavazzi carried 20 times for 185 yards, the most ever gained by a Princeton player in an Ivy League game, and scored on runs of 39 and 47 yards to break open a close game and give the undefeated Tigers the Ivy League championship. That performance made him the Associated Press' Back of the Week.

"I think he is the finest running back in the country, being a shadow of a doubt," said Tiger Coach Dick Colman. "He is a terrific competitor both on offense and defense. He's a great fullback and I'll match him against anyone in the country."

A native of Scranton, Pa., Iacavazzi is majoring in aeronautical engineering and hopes to form his own company someday. He may also take a crack at pro ball, although he's still undecided.

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas State College has added the Air Force Academy Falcons to its 1964-65 basketball season, giving the Indians a 21-game schedule.

They meet the Falcons here Dec. 30 in their third home game. The Air Force team had an 11-12 season record last year. The Indians open their season Dec. 1 at Murray State in Kentucky.

Emmet Drops 3 Games to Spring Hill

Three Spring Hill teams posted victories at the expense of three Emmet teams Tuesday night.

The Spring Hill Jr. boys, led by Terry Powell with 13, scored a 26 to 16 win. Emmet's high point man was D. Douglas with 9.

In the Senior Girls game Spring Hill won 54 to 40. Betty McNeil made 25 and Litta Powell 17. Emmet's Dougan tossed in 21 and J. Wake 12.

Bob McCormack with 24 points led Spring Hill Sr. boys to a 43 to 28 victory. William Morse had 9. For Emmet R. Dougan had 8 points and J. Faulkner had 7.

Friday night the Spring Hill teams entertain teams from Laneburg. Emmet goes to Bodcaw for three games and the Blevins team journeys to Cale.

Hatfield Has Returned a Mile of Punts

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Ken Hatfield is no Peter Snell, but he has run a mile — returning football kicks.

The 5-foot-11, 170-pound senior from Helena, Ark., gives Southwest Conference coaches the punting rigors, all except Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles, that is.

Broyles stands on the sidelines each Saturday, smilingly relishing the luxury of having Hatfield on his side.

"Every time Kenny takes a punt I just know — I really know — that he's going to go all the way," Broyles says. "I realize he can't do it every time, but I'm really a little disappointed when he doesn't make it. He's got me convinced of how good he is."

Hatfield has been good enough to lead the nation in punt returns this season — his second in a row. He has gained 499 yards on 28 punt returns this year. His career total for punt and kickoff returns is 1,785 yards, or 75 feet more than a mile.

Handsome, dark-haired, square-jawed and soft-spoken, Hatfield tells newsmen to praise his blockers.

"They do the work," he says. "I just let them lead me home." Modesty fits Hatfield well because he lacks the usual talents that make a football hero. He isn't big. He isn't fast. He doesn't kick. He doesn't throw. He just plays defensive safety and breaks teams with his returns.

Against Texas, which then was No. 1, Hatfield took an Ernie Koy kick at his 19, trotted upfield, slanted to the sidelines and was off on an 81-yard gallop for a touchdown. Arkansas won 14-13.

Hatfield also has had returns of 95, 80 and 78 yards for touchdowns in his career.

Opponents of third-ranked Arkansas drastically alter — and shorten — their kicking games in hopes of preventing a devastating Hatfield return. This has hurt his total yardage some, but not his average, which is a return of 177.8 yards on each of the kicks that get to him.

He's a straight-A accounting major and — oh, yes — he's escorting Karen Elizabeth Carlson, Miss Arkansas and first runner-up in this year's Miss America pageant.

Hog and Tech Game Highlight of Conference

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Southwest Conference leaders in offense and defense — Texas Tech and Arkansas, respectively — are on a collision course this week with their paths due to cross Saturday afternoon before 45,000 in Lubbock.

It's not without reason, therefore, that both the Red Raiders and the Razorbacks are working on what they already do best: for what better way is there to crack a strong defense than to confront it with an even stronger offense, and vice versa?

Tech coach J. T. King juggled his offensive line yesterday with an eye toward beefing up his attack. He moved 206-pound Chester Howard from tackle to guard, and filled in at tackle with 240-pound Bill Malone.

King said halfback Johnny Agan's sprained ankle was coming along nicely enough for him to see action Saturday.

Meanwhile, deep in the Ozarks at Fayetteville, Arkansas coach Frank Broyles concentrated mostly on drills against key Tech offensive maneuvers, especially pass patterns.

Arkansas, already Cotton Bowl-bound, can close out a perfect regular season by beating Tech, and the Raiders on the other hand can probably expect to play in the Bluebonnet Bowl should they upset the No. 3 ranked Hogs.

Texas, rated fifth in the country, went through a non-contact drill yesterday in preparation for the Thanksgiving Day clash with Texas A&M. The Aggies traditionally give the Steers, and Coch Hnk Foidberg sid workouts the rest of the week would be intense.

Longhorn coach Darrell Royal said three squad members missed the mid-week workout because of lingering injuries — fullback Tim Doerr, tackle Clayton Lacy and end S. A. D. Sand. He added that Lacy would probably be able to play against A&M. The Steers have accepted a New Year's night invitation to play in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla.

Several Rice standouts suffered from injuries at workouts but trainer Eddie Wojceki said all of them should see at least some action Saturday when the Owls are host to Texas Christian. On the ailing list were fullback Paul Piper, halfback Gene Fleming and quarterback Walter McReynolds.

Rice concentrated on defensive efforts against a couple of TCU backs from the Houston area — Jim Fauer of Houston and Larry Bulaich of Lamarque.

Up in Fort Worth, TCU Coach Abe Martin said the 42-minute workout on a rain-drained field was "one of the best drills this season."

Baylor journeys to Dallas Saturday to engage Southern Methodist and preparations at Waco were closed out with a routine drill that concentrated on goal-line defense.

SMU mentor Hayden Fry put the Mustangs through primarily defensive efforts yesterday in light of the Bears' aerially oriented attack.

SMU players voted to select three team members as permanent captains for the rest of the year: end Bill Harlan and tackles Bob Oylar and John Kneec.

Opponents of third-ranked Arkansas drastically alter — and shorten — their kicking games in hopes of preventing a devastating Hatfield return. This has hurt his total yardage some, but not his average, which is a return of 177.8 yards on each of the kicks that get to him.

Apology Gets Gilchrist Reinstated

By MARVIN R. PIKE
Associated Press Writer

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Cookie Gilchrist, fired Tuesday from his $30,000 job as fullback for the American Football League's Buffalo Bills, was back on the payroll today after admitting he had been a bad boy.

He was placed on the waiver list two days ago because, Coach Lou Saban said, Gilchrist's behavior had been injurious to the morale of the Bills. He has been in trouble with Buffalo police, missed some practice sessions and reportedly violated curfew rules.

But Wednesday night, the 29-year-old, 250-pound line-smasher stood before newsmen and said he had told Saban and his teammates earlier he was "truly ashamed" for the things "I have said and done."

Saban, absent from the news conference, released a statement in which he said he would give Gilchrist another chance. "Because Cookie has asked the forgiveness of his teammates and admitted to me he has been 100 per cent wrong in incidents leading to his dismissal, I have reconsidered and will give him an opportunity to prove that he is part of the Buffalo Bills team."

The 10-year veteran of professional football, in his third season with the Eastern Division-leading Bills, wore a grey suit and heavy-rimmed glasses as he told reporters he had "criticized my teammates and my coaching staff — unjustly."

"I am sorry," he said.

He said he had asked his teammates to give him another chance because "I feel I had let them down."

He did not mention his play against the Boston Patriots Sunday, when the Bills suffered their first loss of the season after nine victories.

In that game, Gilchrist gained only 31 yards and was not as effective blocking for his passage quarterback, Jack Kemp, he had been in the Bills previous games.

Shortly before Saban relented, Gilchrist appeared headed for the Oakland Raiders, one of three AFL teams that claimed him. It would have cost the Raiders $100, the waiver price, and they would have had to absorb his $30,000 contract.

Boston and the New York Jets also put in claims.

Rain Fails to Halt Workout

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Rain didn't prevent the Arkansas defense from working out in Razorback Stadium Wednesday against the Texas Tech-type offense.

The third-ranked Razorbacks meet the Red Raiders in Lubbock Saturday.

Coach Frank Broyles put the Razorbacks through routine assignment drills and against Tech's pass patterns for about an hour during a drizzling rain.

Tech's offense is the best in the Southwest Conference. Arkansas' defense is tops in the conference.

It's beginning to look like more than turkey will be on the platter Thanksgiving Day. The Big 12 Conference title may be at stake then, too.

Little Rock Central (6-0-1) and Little Rock Hall (6-1-0) each have a foe to meet this week before their annual meeting in the Turkey Day game.

Blytheville battles the Tigers and El Dorado plays Hall.

Some ifs: — If Hall and Central win this week's games, the title will be settled when they play at Little Rock Thanksgiving Day.

— The same is true if Hall wins and Central loses.

— It goes again if either or both teams tie this week's opponents.

— If Central wins and Hall loses, the Tigers are home free. We hit the right answer .726 of the time last week. This is the outlook for this week.

Little Rock Central 19, Blytheville 14. The Tigers have dominated even the games they lost.

Little Rock Hall 14, El Dorado 0. A rousing defense and Kinkead.

NEW YORK (AP) — Unde-

This was disclosed in the latest football statistics compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau. Nebraska has yielded an average of 152.4 yards to Auburn's 155.8. The Cornhuskers must limit Oklahoma to no more than 185 yards this Saturday to stay in front.

Florida continues to lead in forward pass defense with a 52.0 yards a game percentage. The

Thinks 1936 GOP Debacle Was Worse

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles A. Halleck sat in his quiet Capitol office, surveyed the election results and said, "The '36 debacle was worse than this."

The House Republican leader from Indiana told a news conference: "I can't read into the results any great mandate to change the course of the country."

As for the immediate, specific consequences, he said, "If you ask me I guess Medicare will go through." He referred to medical care for the elderly under Social Security which has been stuck in a House committee devoted to President Johnson's prod.

He also said Johnson could probably get through his proposal to aid the Appalachia area — a key part of his antipoverty program.

Should Barry Goldwater bow out of the national Republican picture after his defeat in the presidential race?

"Adlai Stevenson didn't bow out, did he?" said Halleck. "And he got licked pretty bad." Halleck had kind words for Republican National Chairman Dean Burch and said any changes in the Republican National Committee were its own responsibilities — not his.

Asked to comment on rumbles of discontent in the party with Johnson House leadership, Halleck said, "No one has said anything antagonistic to me." He said he had read such things in newspapers and "from time to time they've had me chewed up and dumped into the ash can."

"On the Senate side of Capitol Hill, Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., said he hopes Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., will continue to serve as chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee. "He's my choice if he will take it," Mundt said in an interview. The South Dakota man will be seeking re-election in 1966.

Nineteen Democratic and 14 Republican Senate seats will be at stake two years from now. Seven of the Democrats are from the South where Republicans have been able to win only a few congressional seats in the past. Outside the South, Senate Democrats who will be up for re-election appear to be entrenched in several states which

Today in Washir.gton

WASHINGTON (AP) — John A. McCone, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, says the fall of Soviet Premier Khrushchev surprised the Soviet Presidium as well as the rest of the world.

The reason, he said, is that Khrushchev's enemies did not themselves believe they had strength to remove him until they assembled in Moscow Oct. 14.

McCone discussed the Soviet situation in a talk before a Catholic University homecoming banquet — the first speech he has made since becoming CIA director three years ago.

WASHINGTON (AP) — McGeorge Bundy, President Johnson's special assistant on national security affairs, says he doubts that France ever would withdraw from the North Atlantic alliance.

France, he said, has demonstrated repeatedly it means to stay in the alliance which still is successfully protecting Western Europe. But, Bundy added, even if any nation should withdraw from the alliance he believes ways would be found to protect the interests and security of other members.

Bundy was interviewed on the CBS "Face the Nation."

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a harsh criticism of the "educational establishment," Dr. James B. Conant has called on the 50 states to join in a nationwide educational policy.

The exception is Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, a Democrat who turned Republican to support Goldwater in the campaign.

Mild Winter? Just Brace for Worst

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP) — A close study of many factors, including the jet stream, a polar bear's fur, the stockpiling activities of squirrels, and the laws of chance, points today to an inescapable conclusion: The coming winter may be abnormally mild, but prepare for the worst.

The U.S. Weather Bureau flatly refuses to say what the winter will bring. Weather science is not yet that good, it says. The most it will hazard is a 30-day outlook, issued twice a month.

Now if the bureau could know now what the jet stream will be doing next January it might become bolder. James F. O'Connor, bureau meteorologist, made a valiant effort to explain the jet stream in words understandable to an amateur.

It is the core or nucleus of a broad band of westerly winds which sweep across the Pacific and the United States, west to east. They fly high, at an altitude ranging from 10,000 to maybe 40,000 feet.

Trouble is, you cannot count on them to fly straight, they meander, they snake around in their journey.

If they snake northward in the winter, over the Yukon for example, much of the United States can look for earmuff weather. If they meander southward, the storms imbedded in them, or swept along by them, they may pick up a lot of water vapor over the Gulf of Mexico. This could mean umbrella weather later for many Americans.

Next stop was the National Zoo where Snow Star, a polar bear, proved equivocal. It's true she has a remarkably thin coat for a polar bear, but her keeper, Albert C. Smith, had a theory about that: "I think she keeps rubbing her hair off by scraping against the sides of her pool."

Elsewhere in the animal world, some confusion has reigned. Squirrels hereabout have been seen chasing their tails as though it were springtime; they don't seem to be stashing away many acorns. In Illinois, blackbirds and bronze grackles were observed on a wrongway flight, eastward instead of south.

The laws of chance are not much help. If you toss a penny, and three heads — bad winters — come up in a row, you might expect that a tail — mild winter — would appear next. But it's a 50-50 chance that it might be another head.

One thing scientists are generally adamant about. The explosion of an atomic device by the Red Chinese did not produce our long, golden Indian summer weather this year.

Man-made blasts, even nuclear ones, are puny compared to nature's strength.

Helena, Arkansas, on the Mississippi River, has been dubbed "Arkansas' only seaport." The city is a shipping center for lumber, cotton and other products.

policy set up by the states. Conant set forth his views in new book, to be published under "Shaping Educational Policy," (McGraw-Hill).

In it he urges that the six regional accrediting agencies be "discredited," and that the influence of such organizations as the National Education Association be minimized.

33 Alaskan Homes Flooded

SELDOVIA, Alaska (AP) — Thirty-three homes were flooded Tuesday night as record high tides hit this quake-tilted community.

Seldovia sank 3.4 feet after the March 27 earthquake and the high tides of this week were expected to do minor damage. Sandbags had been flown in from Anchorage.

The community of 400 is a boardwalk town largely built on piers.

Tides of 21 feet were expected here today. A 22.4-foot tide, the year's highest, is expected Friday.

U.S. Helping Coal Miners Find Jobs

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — It isn't easy for families to pull up stakes, but to combat unemployment the government is helping recruit hundreds of jobless Appalachian coal miners for the Montana copper mines. So far, officials are pleased with the results.

Said a Montana Employment Service report recently: "Many of the new miners have already earned more in one month than they made in an entire year in a series of odd jobs back home."

But, the same report pointed out: "The story did not have a happy ending for all of the new arrivals. Some of them soon became lonely for the old familiar haunts and a few more disenchanted. Others just could not make the grade as hard-rock miners."

The story is being written jointly by federal and state employment services and two independent unions, the United Mine Workers of America and the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

The coal fields of Appalachia are among the most depressed areas of the nation. Employment has plummeted from about 450,000 in 1948 to 125,000 today, and with increasing automation there is little chance of reversing the trend.

What the federal government is doing is making these miners — many haven't worked in the fields in years — aware of the

Legislators Want Rotten Boroughs

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Mark Twain used to tell a story about a trainload of state legislators who were going on a picnic.

The train was held up by bandits. Having relieved the bandits of their valuables, the legislators proceeded to their picnic.

This, of course, is not an accurate description of modern state legislators. For one thing, they lack the old-time vigor.

But many of them are putting up quite a fight — a fight they cannot possibly win — a fight to preserve "rotten boroughs."

The term rotten borough derives from British parliamentary history. The big dictionary defines a rotten borough thus: "An election district that has many fewer inhabitants than other election districts with the same voting power."

This exactly describes the situation now prevailing in most states of the Union. There has been a tremendous growth in the population of cities and suburbs, especially the latter, but the outnumbered rural folks in control — or at least exercise a veto power — in most state legislatures.

In some cases the state constitutions called for mandatory reapportionment after each census but legislators blithely ignored this requirement, in some cases for as long as 60 years.

A lawyer from one of those states requested more time from the Supreme Court.

"How long do we have to wait?" asked Chief Justice Earl Warren, with the air of a man who is tired of waiting.

Now the law of the land — as pronounced by the Supreme Court — is "one man, one vote" — that is, districts have to be equal in population, as nearly as practicable.

So there is nationwide ferment, special session legislatures, with federal courts breathing down their necks. The idea of the controlling rural folks is to reapportion in such a way as to give up as little power as possible.

New Jersey has come up with a plan — not quite new because it was tried in New Mexico but promptly slapped down as a violation of the state constitution. One aim of this plan is not to retire any legislator to private life.

It provides for weighted voting in the state Senate, that is the senator from populous Essex County would have 19 votes, as against one for the senator from Cape May County.

The issue is intertwined with partisan politics. Example: in the Goldwater debacle, Democrats won control of the New job opportunities in the Montana mines. The Labor Department emphasizes that the migration is strictly voluntary; no government pressure is applied.

In the past two years, miners have been recruited from Alabama, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania to work in Montana, where recent developments in open-pit mining of low-grade ore created a shortage of copper miners.

After training to adapt to copper mining, the men can make up to $30 a day — more than a fully employed miner in the coal fields.

A spokesman for the UMW said of his dwindling force: "They could not be taken back into the coal mines. We know that, the industry knows that, and the government knows that. There just isn't room for them. The important thing is that they get jobs."

A Tasty Salad Makes The Meal

This handsome molded salad will add zest and eye appeal to steak, chops, or meat roasts. Using lime flavor gelatin as the base, it teams the marvelous-tasting avocado with tomatoes and seasonings.

Here's a salad with a truly lively flavor that complements almost any meat.

Molded Guacamole Salad

1 package (3 oz.) lime flavor gelatin
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
1 cup boiling water
3/4 cup cold water

3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 1/2 teaspoons grated onion
4 or 5 drops Tabasco sauce
1 avocado, mashed until smooth
1 cup diced tomato, drained

Dissolve gelatin, salt, and chili powder in boiling water. Add cold water, lemon juice, grated onion, and Tabasco sauce. Chill until slightly thickened. Then place bowl of gelatin in ice and water and whip until fluffy and thick. Fold in avocado and tomato. Pour into 1-quart ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with salad greens. Serve with mayonnaise. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

LBJ Program Is Readied for Congress

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is preparing to send his own legislative program along the old, storm-swept congressional trail.

This time it will carry his brand alone rather than the joint JFK-LBJ sign of the previous Congress. The Texas rancher is sure to watch over it as if it were a prize newborn calf.

The congressional signs bode well for the President's program. Johnson's Democrats will have their biggest majority in the House since the New Deal days and have increased their top-heavy edge in the Senate.

But big majorities don't dazzle Johnson. The man who made his reputation generalizing Democratic forces in the Senate believes that leadership is the key to success.

So he is faced with a problem: filling Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey's shoes as the party's assistant leader — or more descriptively, the whip — in the Senate.

It's a big job and big shoes. Sen. Mike Mansfield, the majority leader, is of a scholarly nature, free of pugnacity. Thus much of the heavy legislative line plunging was left to the staccato-talking man in motion: Humphrey.

Johnson approved of the way he did it, so much so that he picked him as his running mate, gaining a vice president but losing a Senate whip.

Who will replace Humphrey? A number of senators want to try.

Russell B. Long of Louisiana, Mike Monroney of Oklahoma and John O. Pastore of Rhode Island all have announced they would like the job and circulated letters to their colleagues seeking support.

Other names have been mentioned, including Sens. Edmund Muskie of Maine and Philip A. Hart of Michigan.

Technically the President has no hand in making the selection. The decision will be made by the 68 Democrats voting in caucus before Congress opens.

But realizing what a quietly spread word from the President can mean, Long and Monroney have sought Johnson's ear. Later Monroney told newsmen Johnson had informed him he wasn't taking a hand in it. Long reported that he thought the caucus would pick him "provided President Johnson does not enter the situation."

It is the "bantam rooster of the Senate," Pastore, whom Long regards as his toughest opponent.

Well he might. Of all the possibilities the senator from Rhode Island appears to be the closest match to the Humphrey pattern.

A liberal, he is intense, combative, quick to debate, respected for his knowledge of legislation and a hard-driving supporter of Johnson's legisla-

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Cosby, one of the brightest of the new comedians, has been signed to co-star in an action-adventure series, "I Spy," aimed at NBC's schedule next fall.

The show will be produced by Sheldon Leonard, the man behind a string of successful series that have spun off CBS' old "Danny Thomas Show." Exteriors will be shot on location in Hong Kong. Most important, it will be the first time a Negro has had a lead role in a dramatic series.

Cosby, a studious-looking, gentle-mannered fellow who reserves his comedy routines for professional appearances, feels that his assignment is important.

"Not as a racial issue," he explained. "It's a personal quest. Can I do the job? Can this comedian turn into an actor?"

Robert Culp will play an agent disguised as a tennis bum. Cosby will be his colleague, disguised as his trainer.

Cosby thinks the casting of a Negro in an important role is simply evolution — "it had to come, a time when the fact that the character was dark-skinned had no importance to the story line."

Still in his 20s, Cosby was a star athlete at Temple University. He was "discovered" on NBC's "Tonight Show," about 18 months ago and since has turned up on most of the television variety programs, scoring on most. He keeps away from what he calls "racial humor."

"I can only do what seems funny to me, and it isn't that," he said. "I think that perhaps the only real wheeler-dealer in bitter racial humor now is Dick Gregory, and that's because he is overwhelmingly concerned with it."

Shy Folks to Get Chance at Budget

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — Nassau County residents who are too shy to stand up at a public budget hearing and voice their opinions will be able to have their say and keep their composure.

County Executive Eugene Nickerson will open his office tonight on a first-come, first-served basis for citizens wishing to sit down in private with him and offer suggestions.

"Some people are shy, you know," Nickerson said. "This led me to believe that they would participate this way."

Regular public hearings on the budget proposals will be held Nov. 27.

Also he was the man Johnson personally picked to make the keynote address at the party's Atlantic City convention.

So the word is being whispered around that Pastore is the best bet to end up Senate wrangler for the LBJ program in the new Congress.

Innocent of Harboring Cult Leader

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Flora Rowan, 57, and her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Mae Payne, 24, both of near Strawberry, were found innocent in federal district court here Tuesday of harboring John Robert Harrell.

Harrell, 41, leader of an anti-Communist religious cult, was arrested at Strawberry last Sept. 19 on charges of harboring Marine deserter Dion Davis, 19, in 1961.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Well, at least this season brought some more girls to keep me company," said Donna Reed.

Indeed the network channels seem to have a more feminine air, even if the new girls are slightly supernatural. Among the entries who appear in the "safe" category for remaining more than a season are the "Bewitched" Elizabeth Montgomery and the ghouls Yvonne DeCarlo ("The Munsters") and Carolyn Jones ("The Addams Family").

Donna also has Lucille Ball,

Shirley Booth, Inger Stevens and Patty Duke for support against the predominantly male programming in television. It appears to be a comfort to the former Deniro, Iowa, girl who for at least two seasons was virtually the only female star on the networks.

And still she goes on. "Good heavens, next season will mark our eighth year in television," she said in amazement. "That's the equivalent of two full presidential terms. Presidents are barred from serving any more than that. Maybe there should be a constitutional amendment preventing television series from doing the same."

At the end of each season a guessing game has been conducted about whether Donna would agree to do another year. Next time the game is off. ABC's Tony Owen, has the option of not she and husband-producer whether to continue the show. With the ratings comfortably high, a renewal seems certain.

Donna now appears willing to carry on but there have been times when she wanted to chuck the whole thing.

"During the first season, I thought it was all a big mistake," she admitted. "Strictly on an energy basis, it seemed to be too much."

"But the problems worked out in time. The studio understood when I said I would work from 9 until 6 and that was all; the schedules could be adjusted accordingly. And in time we

Service Industries at L.R. Blamed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A union leader said here Tuesday that the service industries are largely to blame for the fact that Little Rock has the highest percentage of Negro families making less than $3,000 annually in a survey of 68 cities.

The federal Census Bureau released the figures Sunday at the request of the National Urban League.

"SOUPER" STEW MAKES TEMPTING FARE

Cool days call for hearty substantial meals. It's the time of year to prepare nourishing stews and one-dish meals that satisfy those chilly weather appetites.

While the icy wind blows outside, inside the air is filled with the tempting aroma of food simmering on the range. It smells so good as the weary home-from-work-and-school folks come trodding in. What's in the dinner pot? A delicious beef stew. Tender beef cubes, golden carrots, and wedges of cabbage are gently cooking in a canned condensed tomato soup sauce. This soup is so perfect for joining all the flavors into a mellow richness and also provides a smooth flavorful gravy.

To go along with this "souper" stew, thick slices of French bread.

Roast Beef Stew

- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 pound beef cubes
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup
- 1 soup can water
- 3 carrots, cut in 1" pieces
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire
- 1/2 teaspoon caraway seed
- 1/2 medium head cabbage, cut into 4 wedges

Combine flour, salt, and pepper; roll meat in this mixture. In large heavy pan, brown meat in butter. Add soup and water; simmer and cook over low heat 1 hour and 20 minutes. Stir in carrots, parsley, Worcestershire and caraway; lay cabbage on top. Cover; cook an additional 50 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Makes 4 servings.

Some Budgets Are Approved by the ALC

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Legislative Council today approved a bill to place a 10-cent tax on driver's license fees from driver's license fees into general revenues.

The bill might have been a step to approving a council recommendation to the State Police agency to raise the license fee from 50 cents to $2.50.

The council then voted down the plan to put driver's license fees into general revenues.

The State Police budget is to be considered by the council Monday in a continuing round of state agency budget hearings.

The chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Commission told the council Tuesday that his agency would study the possibility of opening branch offices in the state.

Ernest Maner, the chairman, said it now has only an office in Little Rock, but one is needed in Northwest Arkansas. He agreed with legislators that offices also are needed elsewhere in the state.

The subject was discussed as the council reviewed the commission's budget request for operating funds during the next biennium.

The council approved Gov.

and give State Police their money from that fund.

The committee withheld approval of a proposal by Hempstead County Rep. Talbot Feild Jr. that State Police funds come from highway funds.

State Sen. Clarence Bell suggested that raising the driver's license fee by 50 cents to $2.50 might help. There was no reaction.

Poinsett County Rep. Williams Thompson said State Police Director Herman Lindsey had a plan concerning a percentage of highway revenues. He suggested that the council hear that proposal.

The council then voted down the plan to put driver's license fees into general revenues.

The council approved Gov.

Orval E. Faubus' recommended budget for the commission: $254,112 for 1965-66 and $253,112 for 1966-67.

It also approved these budgets, all recommended by Faubus:

- Oil and Gas Commission: $159,893 a year.
- Abstractors Examining Board: $3,543 a year.
- Commerce Commission: $196,300 a year.
- Liquorfield Petroleum Gas Board: $99,087 a year, plus a $2,000 a year salary increase for Director Edward Albare.
- Alcoholic Beverage Control Board: $121,500 a year.
- Cosmetology Board: $72,983 a year.
- Old Age and Survivors' Insurance Disability Determination: $422,237 for 1965-66 and $447,641 for 1966-67.
- Historical Quarterly: $1,500 a year.

It also approved two budgets outside the governor's jurisdiction:

- Justice Building: $76,188 for 1965-66 and $73,688 for 1966-67.
- Supreme Court: $213,151 for 1965-66 and $212,908 for 1966-67.

The council also approved Faubus' recommendation of $46,800 and $49,645 in federal funds for the Workmen's Compensation Commission's claims-paying fund and $265,000 a year for the claims fund.

The council deferred action on the Forestry Commission and the Arkansas Teacher Retirement system budget requests.

"DEAR ABBY"

THE REASONS ARE PLAIN!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: My husband filed for divorce about five months ago but he isn't doing anything about it. He took a room in town and comes to see us when he feels like it. The kids can't figure out what is going on. Now he says he doesn't have to divorce me, and he is just going to make me miserable. He says he doesn't have to come back home either. We have five children, ranging from three years old to eleven. Should I just go on pretending I don't care what he does, or should I file for a separation?

BROKEN-HEARTED

Dear Broken: Why don't you quit playing games and try to save your marriage? A clergyman could help you pick up the pieces if you gave him half a chance. I can think of five excellent reasons to try—and they range from three years old to eleven.

Dear Abby: Every Thanksgiving my mother has the family over for a big family meal. This means 10 adults and 14 children ranging from 6 to 18 years old. Mother is not young any more, and she has no one to help her prepare the dinner, but she starts the day before and says she enjoys fixing the turkey and pies, etc. Before dinner, all the women sit with the men drinking highballs and listening to Christmas records while Mom and I set the table. I help her serve, and the two of us clean up afterwards, while everyone else sits on their posteriors.

I don't think it's my place to ask the others to pitch in, but wouldn't you think they would know enough themselves to offer without being asked? Maybe if you printed this they'd take the hint.

WORN OUT

Dear Worn: Hints won't help. Recruit the women and teenage girls to shoulder some of the load. (Leave the men alone.) What could be more appropriate than cold turkey at Thanksgiving time?

Dear Abby: That letter signed

"Loves Children" took me back five years ago, when we lived in Duarte, California, (Los Angeles County) where they had the "Block Parent" plan, too. What a comfort it was to know that in every block there was a big sign in the window of some responsible parent's home to let a child know that if he was being bullied by another child, chased by a dog, followed by a stranger, or feeling ill, he could go to that home for help as an island of safety. The block parents of Duarte were also instructed to notify the sheriff if they saw any strange-looking characters either parked near the school or hanging around where children gathered. My children have to walk a mile to and from school every day here in Oregon, and I sure do wish they had that Block Parents plan here. I wouldn't worry so much.

MRS. E. SMITH

Dear Mrs. Smith: Where the safety of children is concerned, your local PTA would welcome your suggestions. Why not bring it up at the next PTA meeting? All that is necessary for this plan to work is the cooperation of one mother in every block of your school district.

Confidential To "Also Made A Mistake, But Wore White": When I advised thusly: "Don't make two—don't wear white," I did not mean the kind of "Mistake" you thought I meant. The mistake was in her first choice. I would not recommend a white, formal, church-type wedding for a divorcee. Sabe, used?

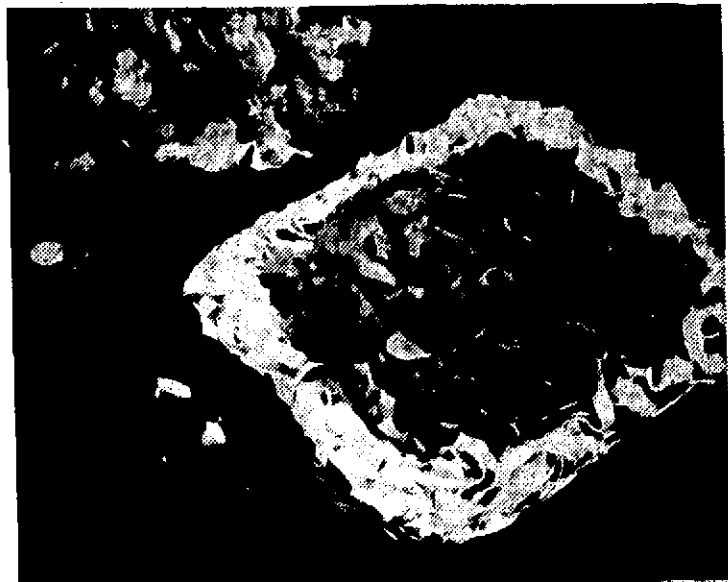

For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, California, and include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Abby answers ALL mail.

Plan Ahead With Pot Roast

When a beef pot roast is on the Sunday menu, buy one a pound or two heavier than needed with a second meat in mind. For yesterday's pot roast becomes today's memorable menu when made into a delectable main dish such as Beef and Noodles Parmesan. The smooth creamy gravy of this meaty dish owes its success to double-rich evaporated milk, so handy and so thrifty to use.

Beef and Noodles Parmesan

1/4 cup butter
2 medium onions, sliced
1 cup sliced celery
About 3 cups cut-up cooked beef pot roast
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 cup boiling water
1 beef bouillon cube
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 can (14 1/2 oz.) evaporated milk (1 1/2 cups)
8-oz. pkg. medium noodles, cooked

Melt butter in large skillet. Add onions and celery; cook over medium heat until onions are transparent, stirring occasionally. Add meat; continue to cook slowly until meat is thoroughly heated. Remove from heat. Add salt, pepper, water in which bouillon cube has been dissolved and Worcestershire sauce. Gradually sprinkle in flour, stirring to blend smoothly. Stir in Parmesan cheese and evaporated milk. Heat, stirring occasionally, until mixture is hot and bubbling, about 5 minutes. Serve over hot cooked noodles. Makes 6 servings.

18 Prisoners in Alabama Death House

By REX THOMAS

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Death lives in a steel-barred cell in a closely guarded wing of Kilby Prison. He has 18 roommates.

Twelve condemned Negroes and six white men convicted of murder or rape wait as their numbered days fade away. Unless the courts or Gov. George C. Wallace intervene, they are doomed to die in a gaudy yellow electric chair.

Some have been in the death cell for years, living from reprieve to reprieve. Some, newly convicted, have just begun to wait it out.

Three convicted as killers and one as a rapist have exhausted their remedies in court, and now only the hope of mercy from the governor separates them from death.

The 14 others have appeals pending in the courts. In Alabama, all death sentences automatically are reviewed by the State Supreme Court, and sometimes by federal judges as well.

The governor has the power to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment. By refusing to intervene further after the execution had been delayed 11 times, Wallace ordered a white man, James W. Cobern, to die for a robbery in which a woman was slain.

In every other death case awaiting his verdict, the governor has put off the decision. He once told a condemned man during a clemency hearing, "I have agonized over such matters, but it is a decision the governor must make."

That was last Sept. 8, when a Negro, Caliph Washington, 24, begged him, "Please spare my life."

Three times since then, Wallace has left the Negro slayer's fate in doubt by granting three and four-week reprieves, without announcing his ultimate verdict. Washington, who was convicted of killing a white policeman at Lipscomb, Ala., near Birmingham when he was 16, now is under sentence to die Nov. 20.

Since he first walked into the death cell on Jan. 26, 1960, the Negro's execution has been postponed 12 times — by former Gov. John Patterson, by Wallace, and by the courts.

Some of his reprieves have come only hours before he was to die.

Cobern's execution a few moments after midnight last Sept. 4 was the first electrocution in Alabama in more than two years.

When Wallace became governor in January 1963, seven men were waiting in death row. One, Cobern, has been electrocuted; another won a new trial and received a life term.

Fifteen others doomed by trial juries have come into prison since Wallace took office.

Of the 18 in death cells now, five white men and nine Negroes still have a chance to beat the sentence in court. But for Caliph Washington, Leroy Taylor, William Bowen and Drewrey Aaron, it's up to the governor to say whether they live. Bowen is white; the other three, are Negroes.

Report From Dallas After One Year

By ROBERT H. JOHNSON JR.

DALLAS (AP) — The driver swings his car into Elm Street. He passes the nondescript orange brick building. The underpass lies just ahead. Once more the prickling begins in the back of his neck.

Here, at this place on the street, the first shot hit.

The car slips through the brief shadow of the underpass and turns into Stemmons Freeway.

The tired businessman is heading home. And the prickly feeling, the compulsive recognition of the Texas School Book Depository, of the Triple Underpass have become part of his day.

This is the way it is in Dallas now, and perhaps always will be, for thousands of people who go home from work a certain way — and who were here on Nov. 22, 1963 when John F. Kennedy came to town and Lee Harvey Oswald poked his rifle out a window of the Texas School Book Depository and fired the bullets that killed President Kennedy and wounded Gov. John Connally.

There was more than grief in Dallas that weekend a year ago. There were shock, shame and agonizing self-examination. There have been changes in Dallas since.

The people no longer talk much about the assassination, but it lies deep within them.

"Sometimes it comes unbidden," an executive said. "Maybe when you're shaving in the morning, when there is no reason in the world for you to think about it. It's sort of like feeling an old scar. Maybe it hurts only a little, or maybe it doesn't hurt at all any more — but it's there."

A year ago, questions of personal and community guilt seared Dallas.

Few, if any, in Dallas believe now that the city was to blame, or feel personal guilt. When the Warren Commission report was released, with its comment that the assassination could not be linked to any "climate" in Dallas, newspaper editorials, officials and people on the street said, in effect — see, Dallas is innocent, just as we knew all along.

But the glare of attention had long before made them see something else — that, Dallas had become known as a stronghold of extreme rightwing thought and action. Some had decided to change that.

Soon after the assassination, Southern Methodist University began a program of joining with city leaders in examining community problems of law and morality. This is continuing.

Last December, a small group of Democrats formed the North Dallas Democratic Club. By the time of the second meeting, the club had 400 members. By election time it had 1,600 and had changed its name to Greater Dallas Democrats.

Last summer, more than 300 leading businessmen formed a group called Businessmen for Johnson. Many of them had been voting Republican since at least 1952. Harry S. Truman in 1948 had been the last Democratic presidential candidate to carry the county.

President Johnson carried it on Nov. 3 by a crushing majority. Former Mayor Earle Cabell, a Democrat, defeated U.S. Rep. Bruce Alger, who once identified himself in the House as an extremist. Republicans won only one county office.

A year ago, Erik Jonsson, then president of the Dallas Citizens Council, a group of top executives who try to guide the city in what they consider its best interests, said: "I think there will be a re-evaluation here. Time is on our side."

On Jan. 1, Stanley Marcus, president of the Neiman-Marcus Store, bought a half-page ad in each of Dallas' daily newspapers to discuss the problem of "absolutism" in Dallas.

Does he think Dallas still suffers from this problem?

"Have you seen the election results?" said Marcus. "Dallas is changing — there are good winds blowing. There will still be differences of opinion, as there should be. But gradually people are beginning to realize that not only are there two sides to every question but often three or four. So I'm optimistic."

Dallas people are less sensitive now about visiting other cities; they seldom run into the bitter remarks and sneers that met them in the months just after the assassination. When they go into other states, people question them about Dallas — but curiously, not bitterly.

And the city has had plenty of visitors. There have been unending conventions, including national meetings of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion.

Business has never been better. The towers soar, the lights gleam, you can buy his and her gas ascension balloons for Christmas at Neiman-Marcus, the opera season is on, the symphony is bigger than ever, new managers try off and on to make a go of Jack Ruby's old strip joint, and soon the Christmas decorations will be out.

Jonsson has urged the city's ministers to take note of the Kennedy anniversary — especially since Nov. 22 falls on Sunday. They are likely to be more gentle with Dallas than they were a year ago.

In another year, construction may have started on Kennedy Memorial Plaza. This will be a quiet park a block and a half from the scene of the assassination. The city and public have raised $225,000 for the plaza and for donations to the Kennedy Library in Boston.

From Kennedy Plaza, you will be able to walk to the scene of the assassination — the School Book Depository and the street dropping into the underpass through Dealey Plaza.

Plain people have already made a memorial of Dealey Plaza.

Strolling from the Union Railroad Terminal and the bus station, or from parked cars bearing all kinds of license plates, they wander through the white colonnades where mourn-

Negro Poverty in Little Rock High

NEW YORK (AP)—A National Urban League report released Monday said that Little Rock has the largest percentage of Negro poverty in 68 U.S. cities surveyed by the league.

It said the proportion of Negro families with an annual income of less than the government's poverty line level of $3,000 a year ranged from 15 per cent in Hartford, Conn., and Englewood, N.J., to 62 per cent in Little Rock.

The report also said the median income of the Negro male ranged from $4,387 at Racine, Wis., to $1,770 at Little Rock. The report did not compare its figures with cost of living indexes or the per capita income levels of the states, and it did not compare the Negro income level to that of white persons in the cities studied.

ers first brought flowers and kept bringing them for months. They stand on the grass and stare at the sixth floor window of the depository or at a guessed-at spot on Elm Street.

U.S. Bishops Come Into Their Own

By BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic bishops of the United States came into their own at the almost-finished third session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council, leading the debate on several major topics and reflecting traditional American values.

American prelates have spoken out in St. Peter's Basilica more than 30 times since September to urge strong council stands on such matters as religious liberty, racial equality, forthright clearance of Jews from any special blame in the Crucifixion, church-state separation, relieving world hunger, and the right of governments to have defensive nuclear arms.

The five cardinals and 285 archbishops and bishops of the United States make up the second largest national hierarchy in Roman Catholicism, exceeded only by Italy's 430 prelates. They represent 44 million Catholics, almost equal to the entire population of Italy.

At the initial council session in 1962 they were largely listeners and followers. Critics suggested they might go down in history as "the silent church" if they remained on the sidelines.

At the second session in 1963 they began to emerge with self-confidence and sign up on the speaking list to present their viewpoints, often in the name of many or all of the U.S. bishops.

At this current third session they moved into the spotlight. Cardinals Richard Cushing of Boston, Albert Meyer of Chicago and Joseph Ritter of St. Louis all arose Sept. 23 to voice a plea for freedom of conscience in every man in following the religion he believes.

For Cardinal Cushing it was a rare appearance before the council's microphones.

"The church must become the champion of religious freedom," the 69-year-old cardinal insisted in his booming Latin with Bostonian overtones. He won a burst of applause despite council rules against it. Cardinal Meyer said "nothing else done at the council will have much importance" if the declaration on religious freedom of conscience failed to win approval. Cardinal Ritter stressed "the interior, natural, native right" of every person to his religious beliefs.

Cardinal Cushing created an even bigger stir in the council five days later. Again opposing the outlook of conservatives, largely from Italy and Spain, he urged the council to put back into a declaration on Jews a deleted phrase that the Jewish people bear no special guilt for the Crucifixion.

"Far be it from us to set ourselves up as judges in the place of God," Cardinal Cushing declared as many prelates moved into the aisle from their seats for a better look at the fiery American in action.

Cardinals Ritter and Meyer also spoke again that day. Their stand, backed by Bishop John J. Wright of Pittsburgh, was endorsed by several European and Canadian prelates.

Cardinal Meyer addressed the council six times this fall, more than any other American prelate.

James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles became ill at the session's opening-day ceremonies Sept. 14. He returned home two weeks later after attending a few of the daily meetings but not speaking before the assembly.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York arrived in Rome late, after a bout of sickness. He said Oct. 20 during debate on the council's modern world problems schema, and asked that the document not be weakened.

On Nov. 17, the New York cardinal urged the council to declare itself in favor of public funds for religious schools, saying, "Justice and equity demand that a proper portion" of public funds be given to religious schools.

The American bishops were silent during council debate of the church's position on birth control and marital love, where several Europeans and the Montreal Cardinal Paul Emile Legier pressed for a re-examination of traditional church restrictions.

The Americans pressed for all-out condemnation of racial discrimination when the modern world schema arrived at a discussion of human dignity.

Archbishop O'Boyle of Washington was applauded in the council hall when he said Oct. 28 — in the name of the almost 200 U.S. bishops then in Rome: "Discrimination is not a sociological problem but a moral problem, a cancerous evil."

Bishop Andrew Grutka of Gary, Ind., said equal opportunity was essential in all of man's economic and social life. "Just as no one looks for beauty in a garbage dump, no one can expect to find virtue in a slum," he said.

Cardinal Ritter spoke that day, saying "recognition of human dignity must take root in the heart of the individual."

Early this month the first American layman ever to address an ecumenical council took the floor. James Norris of Rumson, N.J., president of the International Catholic Migration Commission and a lay observer invited to the assembly, urged the church to put its weight behind a worldwide attack on poverty.

For Holiday Entertaining MEAT LOAF CUBES with APPLE SAUCE DIP

One big cheery bustle, that's the holiday season... the happy gatherings of the clan, the lighthearted dropping in of friends, the young folks home from college. So wise is the hostess who keeps on hand a few frivolous eatables that she can come up with fast when the "entertaining" need arises.

These Meat Loaf Cubes with their Apple Sauce Dip are one such. The meat has a little canned apple sauce mixed through it for a surprise flash of fruitiness, and it cuts down into neat, hefty cubes. The Dip is a blend of sour cream, apple sauce, Tabasco, grated onion, celery salt and mustard, each a lively flavor. Combined they make a dip that's all sharpness and zing.

Meat Loaf Cubes:
1 1/2 pounds ground chuck
1/2 pound ground pork or veal
1 small onion, minced
1 egg, beaten
1 cup canned apple sauce
1 cup packaged stuffing crostons or stuffing mix
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
*Apple Sauce Dip
Combine all ingredients and mix lightly, but well. Pack mixture into a greased 9" x 5" x 3" loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 1 hour, or until very firm. Chill. Slice cold meat loaf into 6-8 cubes. Cube slices and serve around bowl of dip. Makes about 6 dozen cubes.

*Apple Sauce Dip
1 cup canned apple sauce
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
Blend together all ingredients. loaf bits. Makes 2 cups dip.

Arkansas Newspaper Wins Award

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Twenty-nine newspapers and broadcast stations were honored today by The Associated Press Managing Editors Association for outstanding contributions to the Associated Press news report.

Award of citations to the 25 newspapers and four radio-television members of the news cooperative was announced at the annual APME convention here.

Each of the recipients made an important contribution in the coverage of a fast-breaking news event in behalf of all members during the past year.

In some cases they provided stories and newsphotos for other AP members before they could make use of the material themselves.

Five of the awards stemmed from coverage of the disastrous Alaska earthquake of March 27. Other awards were related to coverage of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, racial disorders and the disappearance of three civil rights workers, tornadoes which struck Missouri, Kansas and Texas, and other news events.

The citations were signed by Sam Ragan, APME president and executive editor of the Raleigh (N.C.) News & Observer and Times; and Charles T. Alexander Jr., chairman of the APME Member Citations Committee and managing editor of the News & Journal, Wilmington, Del.

Recipients were:

News and newsphoto coverage: Anchorage (Alaska) Daily Times; Fairbanks (Alaska) Daily News-Miner; Jonesboro (Ark.) Evening Sun; Hattiesburg (Miss.) American; Charleston S.C.) Evening Post; Dallas (Tex.) Morning News; Dallas (Tex.) Times Herald; Wichita Falls (Tex.) Times and Wichita Falls Record News; Green Bay (Wis.) Press-Gazette.

News coverage: Station KENI and KENI-TV, Anchorage, Alaska; WRIN, Rensselaer, Ind.; WDSU and WDSU-TV, New Orleans, La.; Biloxi-Gulfport (Miss.) Daily Herald; Meridian (Miss.) Star; Rapid City (S.D.) Daily Journal; Greenville (Tenn.) Sun; Fort Worth (Tex.) Star-Telegram; KEYY, Provo, Utah; Wenatchee (Wash.) Daily World.

Newsphoto coverage: Oakland (Calif.) Tribune; Ottawa (Kan.) Herald; Detroit (Mich.) Free Press; Foster's Daily Democrat, Dover, New Hampshire; Daily News, New York City; New York Journal-American; Democrat & Chronicle, Rochester, N.Y.; Times-Union, Rochester, N.Y.; Salt Lake (Utah) Tribune; Milwaukee (Wis.) Journal.

Who Steals My Name . . .

By Clay Richards

Copyright © 1964 by Clay Richards. Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The Story: Mail box thefts, similar to those that took place in New York, are reported in Chicago, where Inspector Blake is searching for Richard Emery. Blake goes to interview the mail carrier on whose routes the checks were stolen.

X

I found the carrier trudging down the street, pushing his cart of mail ahead of him. I stopped him and showed him my identification.

"If it's about them box robberies," he said, "I've already told them all I know."

"I'm sure you did," I said. "I'm from the New York office and I think this ties in with a case of mine. I'd just like to ask you a couple of questions. It won't take long."

"Okay," he said.

"The man who rifled those boxes the last three days must've known there were going to be a lot of checks. Right?"

"Reckon so."

"Any idea how he could know that?"

He scratched his head. "Well, he could have somebody checking the routes for a couple of months."

"What else?"

"I suppose he might get somebody in the postoffice who could tip him off on the days when the checks come through. I've thought of both of those. Anything else?"

"Yeah," he said slowly. "I guess somebody could hang a round my storage box when I'm taking mail out. The government checks would be easy to spot because of the envelopes."

"Have you noticed anybody hanging around?"

He shook his head. "But that don't mean they weren't there. I don't pay too much attention to who's on the street."

"All right," I said. "Your route still the only one that's been hit?"

"Nope. I just saw Belson. He's got the route a couple of blocks back—and was telling me that some of his boxes got it yesterday."

"Okay, thanks, Larder. Sorry I had to bother you."

The bar and grill was open when I reached it. I went in and sat at the bar. The bartender finished polishing a glass and came over. I ordered a martini.

When he brought my drink I already had my wallet on the bar, open to my identification card. He studied it for a minute, then looked at me silently.

"Are you the one who cashed a money order this week?" I asked.

"I'm the one," he said bitterly. "Fifty bucks and I have to make it good. But I told that to the other fellows who were here."

"I know," I said. "I'm from New York and I think this is part of a case of mine. Would you mind if I ask you a few questions?"

"Well, this guy comes in a-bout noon, maybe a little earlier. There's another guy with him. They both have a couple of drinks and pay for them. Then this guy pulls the money order on me. And he shows me an Illinois driver's license for identification. The name's the same on both of them. And the signature looked the same when he signed the money order. Now, I don't usually cash checks, you understand. But a United States money order, I figure it has to be good."

"What about the address on the man's identification?"

"Yeah. I guess that's part of what made me suspicious—but that was after he was gone. You see the original address on it was the one on the North Side, but he had crossed that out and written in a new address—only a couple of blocks from here. Like I said, after the guy was gone I got to worrying about that—even though that's what you do when you move. I got the boss to relieve me for a few minutes and I went over to that address. They'd never heard of the guy."

"What was the name on the money order and on the driving license?"

"Paul Zalinsky. That was the name. I don't know what you guys have done but I found out about that license myself. There's a cop who comes in here. I asked him to check on the real Zalinsky is still living at that old address and he lost his license several weeks ago."

"All right. What did they look like?"

"One was a little guy with blond hair. Real pale. But well dressed. He didn't say much. The other guy, the one who cashed the money order, he was big."

I reached into my pocket and brought out the three photographs I'd brought from New York. I tossed them on the bar. "Take a look at those."

He picked up the pictures and started to shuffle through them. He stopped at the second one.

"Hey," he said. "This is the guy. The one that got my 50 bucks."

Arkansas was known as the "Bear State" until 1923.

Johnson's Phogram Is Expanding

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's legislative program is expanding like a batch of yeast bread dough in a warm kitchen.

Until Tuesday, about all that had been mentioned in the way of priority legislation were two big bills the President did not get last year — medical care for the aged under Social Security and the Appalachia bill to pump federal aid into the depressed 11-state mountain region.

But after a White House conference with the President Tuesday, House Democratic Leader Carl Albert talked to reporters in his Capitol office and said these measures also are being considered as next in line after those two:

— Expanded Social Security benefits for all present recipients.

— A new life for the area redevelopment program, aimed at jacking up the economies of high-unemployment areas. This proposal fell by the wayside in the last Congress.

— An immigration bill revising the old quota system.

— A program for increased and liberalized unemployment compensation.

— And perhaps a general aid to education bill below the college level, a program that in the past has always foundered on the shoals of the religious school question.

As to the last, Albert said "Well, I'm sure that will be considered."

Albert emphasized that none of these things was discussed in detail at the White House, but only in the most general way.

The President, with whopping majorities in both houses, is in a position to get almost anything he wants through Congress.

The President also has called for repeal of a number of "nuisance"-type excise taxes on handbags, lipsticks and the like.

House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, who engineered some serious setbacks to the President's legislation program in the last session, already has conceded quick passage of the medical care and Appalachia bills.
